Darts Alberta tournament updates include one cancellation and one date change

– 2009 Bud Richardson Memorial Cancelled –

With the changes to the Lethbridge Legion and challenges securing a new tournament venue, the organizers of the Bud Richardson Memorial have had no option but to cancel the event for 2009. Darts Alberta will be working with the organizers throughout the year in hopes of welcoming the tournament back for the 2009-10 Ranking Season. As this tournament is typically held on the first weekend in January each year, the points earned on the current ranking list for the 2008 Bud Richardson Memorial will be zeroed out on the Ranking List on December 31, 2008.

– Date changed for 2009 Edmonton Tactics Open –

The first Edmonton Tactics Open was held in September 2007. Although the tournament saw a great deal of support from players outside of the Edmonton area, the organizers were extremely disappointed in the participation from amongst their own membership and believed that this was a result of the tournament occurring before the new season had begun. In order to market the tournament more easily to their membership in hopes of increasing participation, the league has changed their tournament date to the second weekend in January. The 2009 Edmonton Tactics Open will be held at the Sands Motor Inn on January 9th, 10th and 11th. All tournament details are available on their poster at:
